Wedding Trial

A bridal makeup trial is essential because it allows you to experiment with different looks to ensure you're happy with your choice for the big day.

It gives you the opportunity to see how the makeup will look under different lighting and in photos, as well as how long it lasts. You can also discuss your skin type, preferences, and any potential concerns with me, ensuring we have a clear understanding of your needs.

Having a bridal makeup trial also helps reduce stress on the wedding day. Knowing exactly what you're getting allows for smoother execution, saving you time and energy on the big day. If you try different styles during the trial, you can make any necessary adjustments, ensuring your final look is exactly what you envision.

While a bridal makeup trial is highly recommended for the bride, it's not as necessary for the bridesmaids. Their makeup is generally simpler and might not require as much customisation. However, it's still beneficial for bridesmaids to have a trial if they have specific requests or skin sensitivities. It helps to ensure that everyone feels confident and comfortable, but if the bridesmaids are happy with a similar look to the bride's, a full trial may not be necessary.

The Details

Deposits:

All bridal bookings require a £50 deposit to secure your wedding date. This amount will be deducted from the total value on the day.

Payments for the treatment can be made on the day either by transfer or cash.

Travel Cost:

I am based in St Helens, Merseyside. However i am will to travel if required to a venue within reason. A travel fee maybe added depending on location and distance required to travel.

Timings:

I usually allow 1.30hrs for the bride to ensure we have enough time to make all the amendments required.

For the rest of the party/wedding guest depending on the style chosen it can take between 45mins-1hr per person.

Special/Unusual Request:

I will always try my best to accommodate special request, please ask away and see what I can do.
